

T-1 Angels Stadium Back of House Irrigation System Tour

Date: Monday, July 29, 2024

Time: 9:00 AM – 11:00 AM

Note: Limited to 24 participants

Come to Angels Stadium and learn more about the turf they play on and see how much care goes into maintaining the field. We will learn about the irrigation system that provides the “desktop” for baseball players. The tour will include the booster station and control system for the field. Hopefully you may even get to “run” the bases. The tour is on Monday because this is the only day they are not playing at home.

This tour is sponsored by Hunter Industries, the supplier of irrigation equipment for the facility. Hunter Industries is pleased to make this opportunity available and share both their customer philosophy and the specifications of the various sprinklers used to cover the in- and out-field of the stadium.

We hope you get to see the Angels play ball while you are in the area. Los Angeles Angels vs. Colorado Rockies play evening games at Angels Stadium on both Tuesday & Wednesday (7/30 & 7/31). You can book this on your own at various online ticketing sites.

Tour Requirements: Participants must be 11 years of age or older, able to take the walking tour and manage stairs, and must wear closed toe shoes.

Cost: $60 per person.

Includes: Roundtrip transportation between Marriott Anaheim and Angels stadium.
